Today's Presentation

Today's presentation is by Rob Kleman from Amplify Oshkosh.

Our mission is powerful: To empower your business with technology! It is our goal to Amplify the awareness of opportunities surrounding all aspects of I.T. in Oshkosh, Wisconsin. The university town of Oshkosh is not only one of the best places to live, we are also proud of our educated and talented workforce, exceptional public amenities like parks, schools, and transportation and a community commitment to quality of life. Amplify aims to empower local businesses, schools, investors and innovators to make their mark in Oshkosh!

Amplify sits at the helm of this effort by supporting local universities that usher top I.T. graduates into the local market and provides continuing education through a peer network of business leaders. We hope to foster a diverse environment where open sharing of best practices and emerging technologies is encouraged. Building relationships between tech players – big and small – is central to our work at Amplify.

Amplify Oshkosh is a program of the Oshkosh Chamber of Commerce
Thank you, Rob!

We are set for planting the Rotary Display Arboretum at the Winnebago County Community Park this Friday, Apr 27.

We are inviting all of you to join us for this endeavor. Planting will begin at approx. 8am and continue until all 32 species are installed.

Help will be needed in placing soil and wood chips around the installed trees as well as staking of the young trees. Wear clothing that you don't mind getting a little muddy and bring some gloves along. Shovels and rakes will be provided. Thank you!

50 Things Every Rotarian
Should Know About Rotary
(4th in a series)

By Steve Garret
District 5300 Governor 1994-1995

4. OBJECT OF ROTARY

In some areas of the world weekly Rotary club meetings begin with all members standing and reciting the Object of Rotary. This statement, which comes from the Constitution of Rotary, is frequently seen on a wall plaque in Rotarians' offices or place of business.

The Object of Rotary is "to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise." The statement then lists four areas by which this "ideal of service" is fostered: "through the development of acquaintance as the opportunity for service; the promotion of high ethical standards in business and professions; through service in one's personal, business and community life; and the advancement of international understanding, goodwill and peace." The Object of Rotary has not always been expressed in this manner. The original Constitution of 1906 had three objects: promotion of business interests, promotion of good fellowship and the advancement of the best interests of the community. By 1910 Rotary had five Objects as increased emphasis was given to expanding Rotary. By 1915 there were six Objects. In 1918 the Objects were rewritten again and reduced to four. Four years later they had again grown to six and were revised again in 1927.

Finally, at the 1935 Mexico City Convention the six Objects were restated and reduced to four. The last major change came in 1951, when the "Objects" were streamlined and changed to a single "Object" which is manifested in four separate ways. The "ideal of service" is the key phrase in the Object of Rotary. This ideal is an attitude of being a thoughtful and helpful person in all of one's endeavors. That's what the Object truly means.
