

TODAY'S SPEAKER: *Royal Air Force Historian
John Dibbs*

Today's Speaker

The award-winning work of John Dibbs is unparalleled in the field of aviation photography. Best known for his stunning air-to-air images of restored World War II -- era warbirds, he now turns his attention to the modern air force of his homeland.

This new collection captures in striking detail the remarkable world of modern Royal Air Force aviators piloting the gamut of aircraft that the RAF has at its disposal. Included are images of such fighters and attack aircraft as the Panavia Tornado, BAe Harrier, and Sepecat Jaguar, as well as transporters and specialized aircraft like trainers, photo-recon platforms, and helicopters. All of the aircraft are photographed in action -- dropping bombs, performing acrobatics, carrying out search-and-rescues, and refueling. And because the images were taken around the globe, all of the photographs frame these spectacular modern military aircraft against breathtaking backgrounds, from the moors of Great Britain to the frozen Arctic tundra. Also includes the histories and modern roles of each aircraft.

50 Things Every Rotarian Should Know About Rotary

(15th in a series)

By Steve Garret

District 5300 Governor 1994-1995

15. SHARING ROTARY WITH NEW MEMBERS

Are you aware of the responsibility or obligation most Rotarians fail to perform? Paying their dues? Attending meetings? Contributing to the club service fund? Participating in club events and projects? No-none of these.

Of all the obligations a person accepts when joining a Rotary club the one in which most Rotarians fail is "sharing Rotary." The policies of Rotary International clearly affirm that every individual Rotarian has an "obligation to share Rotary with others and to help extend Rotary through proposing qualified persons for Rotary club membership." It is estimated that less than 30 percent of the members of most Rotary clubs have ever made the effort to propose a new member. Thus, in every club, there are many Rotarians who readily accept the pleasures of being a Rotarian without ever sharing that privilege with another qualified individual. The Rotary policy on club membership states: "In order for a Rotary club to be fully relevant to its community and responsive to the needs of those in the community, it is important and necessary that the club include in its membership all fully qualified prospective members located within its territory" One merely has to glance through the yellow pages of the local telephone directory to realize that most clubs have not invited qualified members of all businesses and professions into Rotary.

Only a Rotarian may propose a customer, neighbor, client, supplier, executive, relative, business associate, professional or other qualified person to join a Rotary club. Have you accepted your obligation to share Rotary? The procedures are very simple, and everyone must know at least one person who should belong to Rotary.
