Help support Flannel Check Week by wearing flannel to this week's meeting

Flannel Check helps save lives through early detection disease and cancer. Flannel Check partners with corporations, communities and individuals to encourage people to schedule annual physicals and other health screenings. Early detection saves lives!

Why Flannel? Flannel supports all disease states in one pattern! Every illness has its own color ribbon: breast cancer is pink, prostate cancer is light blue, melanoma is black, heart disease is red, mental illness is black, and so on. Flannel and plaid patterns bring together every illness in one place.

During Flannel Check Week, choose and wear the flannel or plaid pattern that includes the ribbons that resonate for you

Schedule your annual physical or other health screening.

Invite your family, friends, coworkers and to join in! Together we can save lives!

29. FUNCTIONAL LITERACY PROGRAM

It has been estimated that a billion people -- one-fourth of the world's population -- are unable to read. Illiteracy of adults and children is global and a concern in both highly industrialized nations and in developing countries. The number of adult illiterates in the world is increasing by 25 million each year! In the United States, one quarter of the entire population is considered functionally illiterate.

The tragedy of illiteracy is that those who cannot read lose personal independence and become victims of unscrupulous manipulation, poverty and the loss of human feelings which give meaning to life. Illiteracy is demeaning. It is a major obstacle for economic, political, social and personal development. Illiteracy is a barrier to international understanding, cooperation and peace in the world

Literacy education was considered a program priority by Rotary's original Health, Hunger and Humanity Committee in 1978. An early 3-H grant led to the preparation of an excellent source book on the issues of literacy in the world. The Rotary-sponsored publication, The Right to Read, was edited by Rotarian Eve Malmquist, a past district governor from Linkoping, Sweden, and a recognized authority on reading and educational research. The book was the forerunner of a major Rotary program emphasis on literacy promotion.

In 1985 the RI Planning and Research Committee proposed, and the RI board approved, that the Rotary clubs of the world conduct a ten-year emphasis on literacy education. Many Rotary clubs are thoughtfully surveying the needs of their community for literacy training. Some clubs provide basic books for teaching reading. Others establish and support reading and language clinics, provide volunteer tutorial assistance and purchase reading materials. Rotarians can play a vitally important part in their community and in developing countries by promoting projects to open opportunities which come from the ability to read.
