TODAY'S PRESENTATION:

Staying Competitive: The Current and Future War for Talent
Stephen Utecht

Today's Presentation

Today's presentation is by Stephen Utecht.

As technology becomes more central to business success, the importance of knowledge workers continues to rise. Coupled with a skills shortage and historically low unemployment means many business owners are struggling to find and retain the talent necessary to compete in today's highly competitive labor market. From engagement, to culture, to behavioral science. Join us to learn what companies are doing to remain competitive in today's labor market and get a sneak peek into how the competition for talent will change in the years to come

Thank you, Stephen!

45. ROTARY PEACE PROGRAMS

A special program of The Rotary Foundation was originally labeled the "Rotary Peace Forum". The concept of a center or educational program to promote greater understanding and peace in the world was originally discussed in 1982 by the New Horizons Committee and the World Understanding and Peace Committee. In 1984 it was further explored by a New Programs Committee of The Rotary Foundation.

The essence of the Rotary Peace Program is to utilize the non-governmental but worldwide resources of Rotary to develop educational programs around the issues that cause conflict among nations in the world as well as those influences and activities which promote peace, development and goodwill. The program includes seminars, publications or conferences as a means to initiate a global dialogue to find new approaches to peace and world understanding.

Specific Rotary Peace Programs are selected annually by the trustees of The Rotary Foundation. Many peace programs are held in conjunction with presidential conferences.
