Lizz received her Masters Degree in Health and Human Development with an emphasis in Sustainable Food Systems from Montana State University in 2013. Since then, she's helped launch several food start-ups across the country and is excited to bring fresh bread back to her hometown.

In early 2024,, Thunderbird moved their retail Cafe into their permanent home at 959 W.6th Ave, the former Reichenberger Meat Market and Grocery built in 1918.

Thunderbird Bakery was started by Texas native Trent Wester after surviving his first winter in his new hometown of Oshkosh, WI. Combining his diverse skills as a craftsman with his passion for delicious, handcrafted food Trent began teaching himself the art of bread and pastry at home and with skilled mentors across the country, they began selling at the farmers market and now have their own space.

Co-owner (and wife) Lizz Redman was convinced of the idea when the first batch of successful sourdough came out of their handbuilt, wood fired oven that lived in their driveway.
