Dear Prospective Donor:

It is with heavy hearts that we are on a mission to help our boss, VenuWorks of Oshkosh/Oshkosh Arena Executive Director Andy Linton, raise funds for expenses incurred while he fights stage 4 lymphoma cancer.

In late-April, Andy was feeling out of sorts and thought he had merely picked up a springtime virus. Upon initial visit to the doctor, it became apparent that he was dealing with something more serious than a seasonal bug. Andy's medical team quickly determined he had lymphoma that had started in his lungs and metastasized quickly to his lymph nodes, stomach and liver - stage 4. With that diagnosis, a rigorous course of action was put in place, by which he'll undergo six chemo treatments every three weeks. His first began in early June.

While VenuWorks has excellent insurance, we here at the arena know that Andy and his wife Tracy are facing the fight of their lives, including the exorbitant costs associated with vigorously fighting this disease. To assist with those expenses, we will be holding a benefit event from 5 to 9 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 8 at Oshkosh Arena. We're asking local businesses and individuals to help us by donating items for silent auction/raffle and/or consider making a monetary donation to support the event. We'd also love for you to attend as a table sponsor!

If you can help us in our fundraising efforts, please fill out the donation details below and return to us by no later than Monday, July 27.

Thank you in advance for your generosity in helping Andy and Tracy during this difficult time! -----
